Clucky winner is 'so excited'

MEET the winner of our Calendar Girls competition.

Francis Dell posed for our exclusive competition with just a chicken covering her modesty.

She will now be treated to a spa day at Champneys Henlow after being chosen as the winner by Calendar Girl Linda Bellingham on Monday.

Mrs Dell and the other competition finalists met Linda and the rest of the cast for drinks and watched the show at Milton Keynes Theatre.

She said: "I'm so excited. It was such good fun doing the picture but I think the chicken's eyes were popping out of its head! My daughter took the picture in her back garden."

Linda said she found it difficult to pick a winner.

She added: "They are all very brave. As brave as us – but at least we're seen from a distance.

"We loved Francis' picture because she used a live chicken, but they were all wonderful and so beautifully thought out in the theme of the play. They all deserved to win really."

Stabber stalks streets

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE hunt is on for a suspected serial stabber after three women were attacked on Monday.

A 47-year-old was stabbed in the leg by a man as she walked on the bridge in Wandsworth Place, Bradwell Common, near the YMCA, at about 2.15am.

The second stabbing happened at about 8.45am, in an underpass in Saxon Gate East near the town centre, when a 41-year-old woman was knifed in the leg as she walked to work near the job centre.

Both victims needed hospital treatment.

The third incident took place in Cleavers Avenue, Conniburrow, at about 1.45pm as a 58-year-old woman cycled towards the city centre. She was stabbed in the arm and suffered minor injuries.

The attacks have left some women fearing for their safety, with one, who wished to remain anonymous, saying: "I walk quite a lot on my own and there's a couple of bridges I walk under, but I won't be doing that tonight.

"It's quite scary because you don't know if anyone has got a knife. You could be walking right in front of them - anybody could have a knife."

Another woman, who also didn't want to be named, added: "We ride our horses around the redways, under a lot of underpasses, so it's quite scary to know this has happened."

Neighbourhood teams have increased patrols in the affected areas as a result of the attacks and will be handing out flyers asking for witnesses to come forward and offering safety advice.

The police are now warning women to be careful when they are out and about.

DI Neil Dodds, investigating the stabbings, said: "All three attacks were entirely unprovoked and we are taking the incidents extremely seriously.

"Although none of the women have been seriously injured they have been left distressed and I would appeal to anybody who has seen anyone acting suspiciously to contact us.

"We believe all three attacks are linked and our officers are working hard to get a description of the offender.

"In the meantime, I would urge women to stay to well-populated areas and, if possible, walk with friends or family."

Anyone with information should contact DI Dodds on 0845 8 505 505, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Overtime ban on delayed Busway

BY KIRSTEN RAWLINS
kirsten.rawlins@mk-news.co.uk

A SECURITY guard is making sure labourers do not work overtime at a city construction site.

Milton Keynes Council has received complaints from residents about building noise from early in the morning until late at night on the £5.25million A5130 Busway road widening scheme.

As a result the council served contractors Balfour Beatty with a notice on Friday limiting their working hours to between 7.30am and 7pm. Breaching these notices could lead to prosecution.

A council spokesman said: "We have served a notice to the main contractor on site.

"We also advised the contractor to use security guards to ensure that there is no noisy working on the site, including deliveries, outside of the permitted noisy working hours and we're pleased to say that as of Monday they have done just that."

As reported in last week's MK NEWS, the taxpayer may have to fork out up to £580,000 to complete the project because delays and alterations meant work was not finished by Thursday when funding provided by the Homes and Communities Agency ran out. In an attempt to complete the project on time, work at the site had been carried out outside normal hours and at weekends.

Resident Ann Foscoe, 59, of nearby Dean Forest Way, said: "All the noise and traffic because of the works seem unfair.

"I wouldn't have bought this house if I'd have known this was going to happen."

The Busway scheme includes widening the road between the Northfield Roundabout and the new Brooklands City Street in the Eastern Expansion Area to allow bus lanes for the new Coachway.

Switched-on mayor enjoys electric drive

MAYOR Debbie Brock, right, has been speaking about her electric experience.

She was at the switch-on of the city's first electric vehicle charging points, outside Iceland in Midsummer Boulevard, last Wednesday and test drove a new Nissan LEAF electric car.

She said: "It is great to be a part of yet another first for Milton Keynes. I very much enjoyed driving this car. It was a very smooth, very comfortable, a very quiet trip in what is undoubtedly an extremely eco-friendly vehicle.

"As more people take delivery of electric vehicles, not just in Milton Keynes but across the UK, it is vital that there is the infrastructure to support this and the opening of these local charging points was just the beginning of great things. The best is yet to come."

MPs' 'no' to vote change

THE city's MPs headed up the 'No to AV' campaign in Milton Keynes on Monday.

The event at Witan Gate was aimed at raising the public's knowledge of the Alternative Vote (AV) system and the arguments against it.

MP for MK South, Iain Stewart, said: "My chief objection is that it means some people's votes will count for more than others. The winner should always be the one who comes first, but under AV the candidate who comes second or even third could be elected.

"It will be a complex and confusing system and mean that elections cost much more to run. Surely when we are having to make cutbacks we should not be spending more money on elections."

Mark Lancaster, MP for MK North, added: "In a nutshell, AV is a system which could give the gold medal to the person who hasn't crossed the line first. It's also expensive, complicated and unfair. And yet it's what we are being asked to vote for on May 5."

Meanwhile the Yes to Fairer Votes campaigners were at Bletchley Park on Saturday raising awareness of the arguments in favour of AV.

Neighbour helps collar burglar

A BURGLAR has been sent to prison after a neighbour noted down his car registration number.

Michael Markou, 36, from Hume Close, Bradville, was jailed for three years and six months after being found guilty of burglary in a trial at Huntingdon Crown Court.

On November 7, he smashed the front door of a house to get inside, which activated the security alarm. A concerned neighbour headed towards the property in Newport Road, Hardmead, where he saw a vehicle in the driveway. As he approached, it drove off but he noted down the registration.

Michael Markou: Jailed for three-and-a-half years for burglary

DC Ed Vince, who led the investigation, said: "This is a great example of the local community looking out for each other."

Firm unaware of recycling rules

A CITY firm has been fined £15,000 for failing to comply with recycling regulations.

Fitness product importer and supplier RFE International Ltd was also ordered to pay costs of £1,670 at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Friday.

The company admitted six offences over two years and asked the court to consider a further 12.

Gareth Phillips, finance director of RFE, told Environment Agency officers that the company handled 278 tonnes of packaging in 2006 and 341 tonnes in 2007 but had not registered to join the recycling scheme because it was unaware of the packaging regulations.

Magistrates were told that for each year of not being in a scheme there were three offences - not being registered, failing to recover and recycle packaging and not providing a record of recycling.

The regulations apply to any company which handles in excess of 50 tonnes of packaging a year and has an annual turnover of more than £2million.

Barrister Adam Pearson, representing the company, said it had joined a scheme as soon as it became aware of the regulations.

Residents of Cleavers Avenue in Conniburrow are complaining about drivers parking on their street

Parking 'cheats' anger residents

PARKING changes introduced in the city centre are making life a misery, say residents.

Those living in estates surrounding the centre are taking action against workers and shoppers clogging up their streets with their cars following the axeing of all free spaces and an increase of premium-rate ones in the city.

Residents of Cleavers Avenue, Conniburrow, handed in a petition of more than 100 signatures to Milton Keynes Council on Friday and those in Bradwell Common have started placing notes on cars asking people not to park outside their homes.

Beryl Winterbourne lives in Cleavers Avenue and said the build-up of vehicles is an accident waiting to happen.

She said: "If something happened to someone here an ambulance wouldn't be able to get through because of the cars."

Porter denies he put bleach in soup

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A KITCHEN porter has denied trying to poison school pupils by pouring bleach into their carrot and coriander soup.

A jury heard Maxwell Cook, 58, tipped a large quantity of cleaning fluid into soup at the prestigious 660-pupil Stowe School.

He has denied one charge of attempting to administer poison with intent to cause harm and his trial started at Aylesbury Crown Court on Monday.

Robert Spencer-Bernard, prosecuting, said: "The defendant was the pot washer and kitchen porter in the kitchen at Stowe School and the intended victims were the staff and students who might drink soup. In fact, it was carrot soup laced with sanitising de-stainer."

If the toxic soup had been served up, it could have caused vomiting, irritation and swelling of the throat.

The jury was told that on March 11 last year, trainee chef Louise Samples entered the kitchen area and saw the defendant by the stove, pouring a clear liquid from a container into the pot.

When asked if there was any reason for Cook to be using sanitiser in the area she replied: "No, there would not have been."

Senior colleagues later tasted the soup and found it had a sharp, bitter taste and was giving off an unpleasant smell.

He was immediately suspended from the school and the police were called.

The jury heard the soup was sent off for forensic analysis along with the bottle de-stainer and they were both found to contain chlorate.

Later taking the stand, Mr Cook, from Broad Street, Brackley, Northants, said he went past the soup, stopping for a couple of seconds but not touching it, then carried on to the drain into which he poured bleach.

Mr Spencer-Bernard asked: "Bleach was found in the soup, do you accept that?"

"Yes," replied Cook.

"There is no chance it got into the soup from your hand by accident?" Cook was asked.

"No it didn't," he replied.

Cook said he bore no grudges and had no issue with any other members of staff.

He said: "I enjoyed working there. I planned to stay there until I retired."

The trial continues.

Egg hunt to help quake victims

A CITY school will be holding an Easter egg hunt to raise money for victims of the Japanese earthquake and tsunami.

The event, organised by Dads of Oxley Park School (DOOPs), will take place at the school in Redgrave Drive on Saturday from 11.30am.

One family known to the group have lived in Milton Keynes for a number of years and were due to move back to Tokyo on March 16, however due to the danger of radiation from the nuclear plant at Fukushima they have been told to remain in the UK even though their furniture and clothes have already been shipped.

Another family from Sendai, one of the worst affected areas of the disaster, are also having to stay in MK with their children until the end of April as the schools in the area have been closed until the beginning of May.

As well as the traditional Easter egg hunt, the day will also involve members of the local Japanese community showing eastern arts and crafts, including calligraphy, origami and Aikido (Japanese martial art), and Japanese food.

All proceeds will be split between the school and the Japan Tsunami Relief Fund.

Creative approach needed for the survival of Stony

SIR – The person who wrote the letter last week claiming that because Stony Stratford is a town and not a village it should have a large supermarket does not have a sensible argument.

Towns come in all shapes and sizes. I have lived in Stony Stratford for many years and I know that most people visit it because it has interesting small shops, a nice green environment and doesn't have a large supermarket.

I think that he or she will also find that the 300 letters against the proposal for a large supermarket (plus a petition) was one of the largest number against a planning application that Milton Keynes Council has ever received.

If rents were lower and access to shops was improved (you cannot get a pushchair into the post office) we might attract a delicatessen and a fruit and vegetable shop to the High Street and then Stony Stratford would be perfect.

It's going through a bad patch at the moment, like so many other towns, but it needs a creative approach to survive the economic downturn and not a large supermarket.

Mary Shaw
Stony Stratford

'Village' a car park

SIR – Following your March 23 article about plans for Two Mile Ash, I am writing to express my concerns.

I have lived on Two Mile Ash for 28 years. The original landscape was planted with trees and shrubs and this seemed like a great area in which to settle down and raise a family.

It was always going to be busy with a shop, post office, pharmacy and two schools. We had all the day-to-day traffic, yet we still had the feeling of being at the centre of a 'village'.

Over recent times however, there has been a slow deterioration of the local environment which had made this area such a pleasant place to live.

The problems started some time ago due to the fact that both schools had become increasingly popular and children were coming from a wider area. This led to an increase in the volume of traffic as parents dropped off and picked up their children.

The council put forward plans to alleviate this congestion and provide parking which included a 'kiss and drop' area for morning and afternoon traffic.

These plans were put forward for public consultation and various architects' drawings were displayed for different schemes.

Although it was hard for a layman to understand or envisage the final outcome from the schemes on display, we were encouraged to make comments and suggestions.

Unfortunately we had no feedback as to which plan had finally been adopted and the next thing we saw happening was the first stage of the proposals taking place. This involved the felling of several mature horse chestnut trees and the extending and relaying of the car park in front of Two Mile Ash School in the High Street.

This has had a profound effect on our outlook which before was 'softened' by the trees. In the summer the trees masked the school building and helped reduce the noise pollution from passing traffic.

The area is now one grey concrete space and the reverberation from passing traffic has increased. We now look out on what, in effect, is nothing more than a car park.

The council now has plans to implement the second stage of further plans to lay more car spaces. These plans will involve felling a row of mature, healthy, 30-year-old maple trees, which were planted when the estate was first built in the early 1980s. What could be, if it is managed correctly, a green oasis would become another featureless car park.

This is a giant step in the wrong direction. If the right measures were taken this green oasis could be a pleasant walkway for local residents on their way through the 'village' centre.

The recently formed Two Mile Ash Environmental Group has drawn up a plan for a proposal which would still provide car parking spaces and save the trees from being destroyed. These plans also include traffic calming measures.

I urge the local authority to look at and consider our proposals before going ahead with its plan and destroying what little green space is left in the centre of Two Mile Ash.

Tom Gaunt
Two Mile Ash

■ SIR – It is good to see that other residents of Two Mile Ash value the maple trees and the landscaped area on the High Street and have no wish to lose them for the sake of nine car parking spaces, as would happen if MK Council's plans are carried out.

However, I cannot take all the credit for the alternative plan, which would both preserve and enhance the landscaping and the trees and accommodate parking space for nine additional cars.

Although I formulated the initial idea, the design brief was executed by a registered architect, incorporating the standards outlined in the Department for Transport's Manual for Streets.

Like Mr and Mrs Gray (Letters, MK NEWS, March 30), I moved to Two Mile Ash with my family more than 25 years ago, attracted by its excellent design and imaginative landscaping.

As long-term residents we are dismayed at the prospect of losing even more of its distinctive character.

This is why we are contesting the council's proposals and why we have set up the Two Mile Ash Environmental Group (TMAEG). Residents interested in joining this group should e-mail rootsandshoots@talktalk.net.

It is to be hoped that the council will give serious consideration to TMAEG's alternative plan for the High Street.

Unabridged bridge report

SIR – It is essential that the complete and unabridged report of the Milton Keynes Council investigation into the closure of Secklow Gate bridge is made public.

Surely MK Council could have bought the scaffolding outright for less that it had to pay in rental charges.

How on earth does it come to a figure of £181,758 for 'traffic management' costs when all it had to do was put up a few temporary traffic signs and a couple of lines of road cones?

Whoever is responsible for this debacle must be indentified and called to account.

John Cawston Sanders
Milton Keynes

Council incompetence

SIR – Wow! In last week's edition of your paper you have three separate articles regarding Milton Keynes Council.

The front page story suggests the council will have to fork out between £240,000 and £580,000 to complete the Busway project.

Orginally in your paper it was published that the closure of Secklow Gate bridge would cost £390,000. However, in last week's edition these figures have been revised and it's now £450,000, with the added cost of £181,758 for traffic management.

Finally, and I have saved the best for last, a new crematorium has been built, but the surveryors forgot to include a second chimney.

I have no doubt that the council would want us to look at them as individual incidents – instead of an indication of its collective incompetence.

One person, one vote

SIR – The UK will have its first national referendum for 35 years to ask the voters whether they want to replace our existing first past the post voting system with the alternative vote (AV).

The AV system is not a genuine representation of the will of the people. In the AV system the voters have to choose the candidates according to their preference and mark 1,2,3 and so on.

In this system the winning candidate should get more than 50 per cent of the votes cast. Hence the votes of the candidate who gets the least number will be distributed to other candidates and this candidate will be eliminated.

This process will continue until the winning candidate secures more than 50 per cent of the votes. If there are several candidates for one seat it is very likely the person whom people have voted as their first choice may not get elected. The new AV system is complicated and would cost the Government £250million.

AV goes against the fundamental British principles that have been the cornerstone of our democracy, namely the principle of one person, one vote.

Some 2.4 billion people use the British voting system to choose their governments and it is the most widely used system in the world.

It would be crazy on our part to abandon this tried and tested system - and that is why Britain should say no to AV.

Pupils take a tea party break before sell-out shows

YOUNGSTERS at a village school brought Alice in Wonderland to life last week.

Pupils at Thornton College put on two performances of the Lewis Carroll classic on Thursday and Friday, both of which were sell-outs.

And on Wednesday they took a break from rehearsals to enjoy a tea party in the school grounds.

Last Saturday the children also had a visit from bug expert Paul Carpenter, from school touring workshop Life in the Rainforest, who taught them about the creatures of the jungle and let the braver ones touch creepy crawlies such as tarantulas and a preying mantis.

MK Council doing OK – says top boss

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Council insists people are satisfied with the way it runs things – despite MK NEWS being inundated with comments from readers saying the opposite.

Readers have been getting in touch to highlight their concerns over the way some recent council projects have been handled.

Last week, MK NEWS reported work to widen the A5130 Busway in Broughton could cost the taxpayer £580,000 as it is taking too long to complete.

In the same paper, it was revealed surveyors for the new £6.2million Crownhill crematorium forgot to include a second chimney, needed if the main flue fails.

These issues came to light following the news Secklow Gate bridge, closed after a fire at the beginning of last year, could cost a total of £631,794 to keep closed until it is repaired – almost three times the minimum repair cost of £215,000.

This week we report a review is under way after the car park at Bletchley Leisure Centre was built without a lift (turn to page 16), and in December the new Coachway was opened nearly two years late.

One reader, Graham Benjamin, wrote in saying: "We appear to have a situation where public money, our money, is being squandered hand over fist."

But the council is keen to point out it delivers most of its programmes on time and on budget.

Water Hall Primary School in Bletchley recently won a national British Council for School Environments Award for its 'inspiring environment', Milton Keynes Academy was shortlisted in two categories of the national Excellence in Building Schools for the Future Awards and Bletchley Leisure Centre received a BREEAM Excellence Award and Local Authority Building Control Award.

A bigger, more accessible library will be opened in Westcroft District Centre on Friday, work was recently finished on a fourth arm on Granby Roundabout in Denbigh and the first electric vehicle charging points have just been switched on.

David Hill, chief executive of the council, said: "The council's 2010/11 budget for major capital projects is £71million. We anticipate our final overspend will be £160,000, which is less than one quarter of one per cent.

"While some projects don't go according to plan for various reasons, the vast majority of council projects are delivered on time and on budget and meet or exceed users' expectations.

"A recent internal audit report found our project management to be satisfactory and improving.

"It's not just our opinion – more people in Milton Keynes are satisfied with the way the council runs things than the national average for council satisfaction."

Two rifles found in canal clean-up

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A POLICE investigation is under way after two rifles were recovered in a canal clean-up.

The guns, with telescopic sights, were pulled out of the Grand Union Canal as part of the twice-yearly clean-up by the Inland Waterways Association (IWA).

Twelve tons of rubbish were dredged out the ten-mile stretch, which passes through Milton Keynes, including the guns, a blown-out safe, 22 shopping trolleys, 38 bicycles, a sunken metal dinghy, nine mattresses, wheels, tyres, scaffold poles, TVs, fridges and a motorcycle.

The police said the guns will now be examined.

A spokesman said: "Thames Valley Police was made aware of the weapons recovered from the canal in Milton Keynes on Friday afternoon.

"They have now been booked into our property department for their safe keeping until they can be examined to see if they are connected to any possible offences."

Fifty people helped in the three-day clean-up, including a troop of Leighton Buzzard scouts and a number of new volunteers.

They joined volunteer IWA members and their boats, plus British Waterway's special manned lifting boat for recovery of the very heavy items including the safe.

There were 30 black sacks filled with rubbish collected from the towpath and adjacent hedgerow between Fenny Stratford and Wolverton.

Rifles pulled out of the Grand Union Canal during a clean up

A IWA spokesman said: "This is a sad reflection on those who treat the canal as a dump."

Shops shut after barrier collision

BY KIRSTEN RAWLINS
kirsten.rawlins@mk-news.co.uk

A TRUCK driver had a lucky escape after a two tonne height restriction barrier narrowly missed his cab.

The accident took place outside thecentre:mk on Thursday when the driver, from haulage company D&G Noble, drove under the partly raised barrier, causing it to dislodge and fall partway through a glass pane at the shopping centre and onto his truck.

Station manager Steve Wells was in charge of Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service's Urban Search and Rescue team at the scene.

He said: "The barrier was in a precarious position because it was only being held in place by one bolt as a result of the collision.

"The driver had a lucky escape as it narrowly missed the cab of his lorry when it fell."

Retailers Orange and Currys.digital were forced to close for a few hours as they were beneath where the barrier fell through the glass.

Steve Noble, director at D&G Noble, said: "Our driver's okay. We are looking into it internally and liaising with our customer thecentre:mk and dealing with costs between the two of us. It will be an insurance claim."

A spokesman from thecentre:mk added: "We are grateful that none of our guests, retailer partners or staff were injured as a result of the incident.

"The cost of the damage is currently unknown - our insurance company is currently reviewing our position.

"As a matter of course we will undertake a full internal review on procedures and responses with our main priority on the health and safety of all parties."

Lucky escape: The driver of this truck was uninjured after it pulled down a height restriction barrier at thecentre:mk onto the top of the cab

An artist's impression of the new pavilion to be built in Broughton

Sports pavilion is given go-ahead

BY KIRSTEN RAWLINS
kirsten.rawlins@mk-news.co.uk

A COMMUNITY pavilion costing almost £3million has been given the green light – despite the concerns of residents.

The 780 square metre multi-facility building on the playing fields in Broughton will provide meeting rooms and a sports hall.

The £2.7million project, which includes two outdoor football pitches, was given the thumbs up by Milton Keynes Council's planning committee last Thursday, despite concerns raised by residents about its size, traffic and parking.

Paul Baines of Dean Forest Way, Broughton, said: "I don't oppose the pavilion, I just don't think we need more football pitches.

"There's no protection for the houses around there either so there will be balls flying into the houses all the while. I also think a massive issue will be traffic – the roads in Broughton are a mess and having extra traffic will lead to more problems. It has been badly thought out."

Councillor Sam Crooks, member for Middleton, said: "The council has resolved the issues as much as it can. The pavilion has been moved slightly, made smaller and only one football pitch will be in use at any one time. Bollards will also be put in to stop people parking on the verges."

The development of the 1.3 acre site, designed by Vincent And Gorbing Architects, will be paid for by the council using money from the housing developments in Broughton and capital funding.

Paul Sanders, director of leisure for MK Council, said: "This promises to be a great new facility for the residents of Broughton and Milton Keynes that can be enjoyed by everyone in the community."

High speed line could see train numbers double

A NEW high speed rail line could almost double the number of trains from Milton Keynes to London.

The proposed HS2 line, which would run from London to the West Midlands, would ease overcrowding on the West Coast Main Line, which serves the city, by increasing the direct services to the capital from 89 to 172 a day.

Transport secretary Philip Hammond said: "Our proposed new high speed rail network would free up a huge amount of space on current railways for more trains to operate. Passengers in some towns like Milton Keynes could see a near doubling in the number of trains from their station to London because of HS2."

Representatives from HS2 Ltd and the Department of Transport will be at Milton Keynes Railway Station on Friday from 7.30am to 7pm to answer residents' and commuters' questions about the proposed scheme, which is currently being reviewed by central government.

HiMO law challenge

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Council has been challenging the Government over new HiMO regulations.

The decision by housing minister Grant Shapps to allow landlords to transform a building into a house in multiple occupation (HiMO) without planning permission came under fire at London's High Court last Wednesday.

The council, backed by Oxford and Newcastle City councils, claims HiMOs can lead to problems with additional traffic, crime, antisocial behaviour and the safety of tenants.

These problems were highlighted in September when a fire in a HiMO led to the deaths of Bola Ejifunmilayo and her three-year-old daughter Fiyin.

The councils are asking for the changes to be quashed.

Local authorities retain the power to remove the development rights, but they face having to give landlords 12 months' notice, or pay compensation.

In court, the council stated it had previously been able to exercise a degree of control over HiMOs by either refusing planning permission or making it subject to conditions. It argues the Government failed to properly consult with planning authorities prior to issuing the orders.

The judge reserved his decision and will give it in writing later.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

A police car at the scene of the gas leak near The Point

Gas leak sees 100 evacuated in city centre

BY KIRSTEN RAWLINS
kirsten.rawins@mk-news.co.uk

FEARS over a gas explosion led to up to 100 people being evacuated from a city centre building.

Workmen damaged a gas pipe at a stand-alone unit owned by Midsummer Place outside Zara, near The Point, on Thursday morning.

As well as people being evacuated from The Point, pedestrians, buses and cars were kept away from the area and up to 20 motorists were unable to access their parked vehicles within the cordon due to concerns the gas would be accidentally ignited.

Paul Tilbury, operations manager at Midsummer Place, said: "We can confirm there was a minor gas leak on the perimeter of the centre caused by constructors in the area. For public and staff safety we cordoned off the area for just over an hour while the matter was dealt with. Disruption was kept to a minimum."

Police, firefighters and an ambulance attended the scene as a precaution.

A police spokesman said: "We were called out at around 11.30am to reports there had been a gas leak near to the Zara store.

"Staff from [gas company] Transco also attended and made the area safe."

A spokesman for bus company Arriva added: "The closure was for the safety of the general public and fortunately caused very little disruption to services."

Hanged husband found by his wife

BY KIRSTEN RAWLINS
kirsten.rawlins@mk-news.co.uk

Hanged: David Eccles' estranged wife was admitted to a mental health unit after discovering his body

A MOTHER-OF-TWO who discovered her husband hanged has been admitted to a mental health unit.

An inquest into the death of David Eccles was told his estranged wife, Deborah, found the 53-year-old dead at his home in Menzies Court, Shenley Court, on November 29 last year.

The same day she was admitted to the Campbell Centre, the city's mental health unit, because police feared for her mental wellbeing.

Detective Sergeant Luke Grove was one of the officers called to the scene.

Following the hearing he said: "Mr Eccles was found by Deborah in those tragic circumstances and she went to the Campbell Centre on the same day. I contacted her GP and the mental health team as I had some worries about her mental health.

"He left behind two daughters - aged 17 and 20 – who must be finding it incredibly difficult."

It is believed Mr Eccles ended his life due a variety of pressures, including the poor health of his father, his separation from his wife and problems at work.

Richard Robins, of Peartree Bridge, had been his friend for more than 20 years.

He said: "David was such a lovely person and always such great fun to be around. He cared enormously about his two daughters and will be greatly missed."

At the inquest, held in Milton Keynes last Thursday, deputy coroner Thomas Osborne recorded the cause of Mr Eccles' death was hanging.

He said: "At the time of his death Mr Eccles was suffering from depression. He could not cope with the difficulties of life.

"I express my deep condolences to his family and friends."

Council looks into lift at leisure centre car park

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A REVIEW is under way to work out what should be done about a rooftop car park that has no lift.

Users of the new Bletchley Leisure Centre car park have been complaining about the lack of a lift, saying those who are disabled or have children in buggies are having to walk down the ramp to get to the bottom.

Childminder Nicola Bartlett said she can't visit the centre on her own with her three children as she is worried about what might happen when they are walking down the ramp, so has to wait until the weekend to take them with her husband.

She said: "I think it's crazy. It's madness for a leisure centre, for public use with lots of facilities for children, not to have a lift in the car park.

"Drivers don't know if there are people walking down as there are no signs. Even if there was an allocated walkway, it could still be dangerous."

Milton Keynes Council has said a review is now being undertaken, with a decision likely to be made in the summer.

A spokesman said: "Although there is no legal requirement for a lift to be installed in the car park, this is just one option that is now being considered as part of further enhancements to parking in the Bletchley area."

Ward councillor Liz Campbell said the review had to happen as it's not sensible to have a car park without a lift.

She said: "Even as a fit and able person, I would still struggle to get up six flights of stairs with shopping. It's just nonsense."

One step beyond: Nicola Bartlett can't use the Bletchley Leisure Centre car park on her own with her three children – she is worried about what might happen when they are walking down the ramp

Compensation bid after pavement fall

OAP claims raised kerb forced her to reverse disability scooter into ditch

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

Grace Quinn was injured when she reversed her mobility scooter into a ditch

A PENSIONER is seeking compensation after she fell off her disability scooter at a new residential development.

Grace Quinn suffered a suspected chipped bone in her shoulder, a bruised hand and a black eye when her scooter fell into a ditch at the side of the pavement in Selkirk Drive, in the new Oakridge Park development.

She has now put the matter into the hands of a solicitor.

The 68-year-old Stantonbury resident was visiting the site on Thursday, March 24 to see where her doctor's surgery is due to move to. She was on her way home when she discovered the pavement she was on ended in a raised kerb, meaning she couldn't get down onto the road.

She tried to reverse and turn her scooter around, but backed into a small ditch at the side of the walkway and fell off, hitting her head and trapping her leg.

Luckily, passers-by were on hand to help her up, but she said the accident could have been a lot worse – last week a 79-year-old man in Cornwall died after his scooter and it fell on top of him.

Ms Quinn said: "I had my little dog on the scooter and she could have been killed. After the fall, I'm finding it hard to dress myself, I can't lift a kettle and I'm now finding it difficult to take the dog for a walk. What makes me angry is some of the other pavements have drop kerbs, it's silly. It's putting people's lives in danger."

Adrian Smith is construction director for developer Persimmon Homes Midlands, which is building the new residential development.

He said: "While we are sorry to hear about Ms Quinn's accident, we have constructed all roads and footpaths at the Oakridge Park development in full accordance with planning consent granted by Milton Keynes Council."

Mother, Baby and Beyond...

Becoming a new parent is the most amazing, exciting and challenging thing you are ever likely to do.

Most people will not get parenting right all the time, so go easy on yourself as you learn.

Cooking meals, making a sandwich, taking a load of washing out of the machine, popping to the shops, putting petrol in the car, making a phone call... ordinary things take twice as long when you have a new baby, so make the most of any help you can get.

Having a baby means a big change in your social life. You may be enjoying the developing bond with your baby, but miss the company of friends and colleagues. It can be a great help to make new friends who are in a similar situation. Ask your midwife and health visitor about networks, clubs and groups of parents, such as the National Childbirth Trust (which has hundreds of branches that meet up regularly for support), baby/toddler groups, breastfeeding support groups and Sure Start groups.

Here are a few local companies who can help with the care and development of your little bundle of joy.

Kids help marathon effort

YOUNGSTERS have been raising money towards a dad's marathon effort to help a charity that offered support following his son's death.

As previously reported in MK NEWS, Harry Mould of Thresher Grove, Greenleys, died suddenly at the age of five from brain damage caused by severe breathing difficulties.

His father, Lee, will be running in the London Marathon on April 17 to raise funds for The Child Bereavement Charity which has supported the family, especially Harry's twin sister Jessica.

He has already raised £1,000 in sponsorship thanks to fundraising events held by youngsters across the city.

A cake sale at MK Academy last week raised £471, with one teacher bidding £30 for a cake.

On Friday St Mary Magdalene Primary School in Greenleys, where Harry was a pupil and Jessica still attends, raised £200 with a dress down day. They also planted flowers and shrubs in the memorial garden which was built shortly after Harry's death.

Yardley Gobion Primary School also held a sponsored dress down day on Friday, which raised £100, while city insurance company LifeSearch raised £160 with a raffle.

Harry's mum, Odette, said: "I'm just so pleased with all the support we've received from the schools and friends and the sheer generosity of people.

"It helps ensure the charity will be able to continue helping Jessica and others in the same situation. I know how good the work of this charity is.

"Milton Keynes Council is now axing funding from the local bereavement counselling service, which makes the work of the Child Bereavement Charity even more important."

Fires see hospital staff and patients evacuated and OAP rescued

Staff are evacuated from Milton Keynes Hospital's treatment centre after a fire was started by a toaster – nobody was injured

BY ADAM GRINSELL AND KIRSTEN RAWLINS
editor@mk-news.co.uk

FIREFIGHTERS were called out to two potentially serious fires in just one day last week.

On Wednesday morning, three crews attended a kitchen fire in the treatment centre at Milton Keynes Hospital, then just a few hours later a bed-ridden pensioner was rescued from her bungalow after a suspected arson attack.

Thirty-two patients had to be evacuted from the treatement centre after the fire broke out shortly after 10.30am.

The blaze, believed to have been started by a toaster, was tackled by a member of staff with an extinguisher before firefighters arrived.

Patient Julie Hearn from Buckingham praised the staff and fire service, saying: "They were smashing. Someone came and collected people straight away. They made sure we had somewhere to go and then made sure we all had drinks and blankets."

Then at about 1.30pm, emergency services were called to the home of Francis Scott, 65, in Marram Close, Beanhill, after a fire started in the bin cupboard and spread to the gas meter cupboard and then the house.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said: "We are currently investigating this matter and treating it as arson with intent to endanger life."

Arts cuts

The Magical Menagerie at the IF Festival – organised by The Stables last summer

TWO of the city's cultural institutions are celebrating after avoiding swingeing cuts to funding.

Last Wednesday, Arts Council England (ACE), the national development agency for the arts, announced it would be giving less money to 154 organisations in its National Portfolio, following Government cuts of about £100million in October.

But The Stables, in Wavendon, and MK Gallery in the Theatre District will still receive money from the organisation, although less than in 2010/2011.

Both organisations also now have confirmed funding until 2015.

The Stables will receive £255,403 from ACE for this financial year, down from £274,331. It said although it is grateful to be recognised as one of the UK's leading music organisations, particularly for its off-site work on projects such as the IF Festival, it is saddened by the scale of cuts in the arts.

Chief executive Monica Ferguson said: "Our inclusion in the National Portfolio will give us the confidence to continue working towards our goals."

MK Gallery will receive £372,963, down from £400,605, and its director Anthony Spira said: "This is very good news in the current economic context.

"The funds we receive are channelled into programmes by, for and with people in MK, so we continue to invite organisations and individuals to contact us with ideas for potential collaborations."

Debt advice extended

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A RISE in the number of people struggling to cope with debt has led to a national housing charity extending its city service.

Shelter offers free advice and support on issues such as rent and mortgage arrears, disrepair and illegal eviction, but has now expanded to help people who have lost their jobs deal with issues around debt and welfare benefits, including housing benefit and support.

Latest statistics from the charity show 270 households in Milton Keynes are at risk of losing their homes and more than 360,000 people in the south east are resorting to credit cards to pay their rent or mortgage.

Dawn Thabit, from Tinkers Bridge, contacted Shelter for help with her mortgage arrears.

She said: "Before going to Shelter I didn't think my situation could be improved as much as it has, but the service I received was outstanding. I was helped emotionally, as well as with options and solutions."

Helene Vancliff, Shelter service manager for Milton Keynes, said: "More and more people are going to need help with issues like debt and rent or mortgage payments. I would urge anyone who is having difficulty to get in touch with us immediately.

"Most people will be seen within a week by one of our specialist advisers who can let them know what their rights are, explain their options and help them negotiate with councils, landlords and lenders."

To book an appointment to see an adviser call 0344 515 1876.

Masterchef goes back to school

THE city's very own Masterchef visited his old school on Monday.

James Perry, 25, from Great Linford, returned to The Radcliffe School in Wolverton to give some of the pupils a lesson in how to make and present profiteroles with strawberry coulee and a mushroom-stuffed ballotine of chicken. The self-employed carpenter, who has reached the final five in the BBC1 cooking competition, also taught the children how to dissect a chicken.

He said: "Considering the cooking level they are at, they showed great potential and really enjoyed it – there was one boy who said at the start he wasn't interested at all, but was really involved by the end. I was quite excited to come back and it was great fun."

MKLIFE | MUSIC REVIEW | LIVE MUSIC | COUNTRY FAIR

SIMON DARNELL

NYC MOVES TO THE SOUND OF LA

Funeral Party

IF THERE'S one thing this song doesn't need, it's more cowbell.

Here a cowbell, there a cowbell, everywhere a cowbell.

It's a bit of a strange one, this song. The singer really goes for it as though he thinks the music's going to sound a lot harder than it does, and therein lies the problem.

If this tune was a lot rougher around the edges, it'd actually be much better than it is. Trouble is, it's all just a bit too polished, as if it's supposed to sound spontaneous while in actual fact every single note was rehearsed for months beforehand. That's not to say this is a bad song, in fact it's quite good, but it's just missing a sense of urgency.

This song knows exactly what it's doing, but it would've been more fun for me as a listener if I didn't know that too.

FRIDAY

Rebecca Black

I REALLY thought I wouldn't have to review this.

Originally, it was an Internet phenomenon, but now it's actually in the charts.

People are buying this song. Let me repeat that. People are willingly purchasing a song that contains the words 'partying, partying, yeah, fun, fun, fun, fun, looking forward to the weekend'.

Now, I'm not going to criticise the people who've bought this single, and that's because they didn't record it.

They are all blameless.

Even Ms Black herself is largely exempt from criticism. She's heavily Auto-Tuned, but that's not her fault; it just means there's no way to tell whether she really can sing or not.

This 'epic' sounds like the kind of tat that American teen pop stars regularly foist upon us, but again, she's innocent.

She's only 13, and this is probably the sort of stuff 13-year-olds listen to. Poor kids.

No, the blame for everything that's truly wrong with this song lies solely at the feet of the lyricists. 'Yesterday was Thursday, today it is Friday and tomorrow is Saturday and Sunday comes afterwards', sings La Black, who did not write the lyrics and in years to come may be eternally grateful for that fact.

If this song was designed to showcase her talents, it's failed spectacularly – it's only doing so well because it's awful.

Somebody needs to make the songwriters stand in a corner and think long and hard about what they've done.

WELSH NATIONAL OPERA

April 13-16

WNO return to MK Theatre, this time with Verdi's brooding tale of vengeance Il Trovatore and a stylish new production of Strauss' Die Fledermaus.

If you're an opera virgin and don't think it's for you, why not take a look at our short beginners guide and give it a go. You may surprise yourself.

What is opera?

Opera has something for everyone.

If you enjoy music, theatre, film, dance or the visual arts, you're sure to find something you like in this amazing art form.

Opera is passion, drama and high emotion with a unique mix of fine music and captivating theatre.

Opera is total theatre

The beauty of opera is in the way it brings together several different art forms (music, drama, and visual arts) to make one incredible experience.

Die Fledermaus still life image by David Massey for WNO Digital

Opera fuses a whole range of passions and themes: the triumph of love, love unrequited, hunger for wealth and power, unexpected joy, mortal envy, the corruption of innocence, unfaithfulness and political intrigue.

Where did it all start?

Opera started in Italy during the Renaissance and the word comes from the Italian opera in musica meaning 'a musical work.' The very first opera Dafne (1597) was by Jacopo Peri and was a dramatic play. Over the last 400 years new operas have been created all over the world.

How will I know what's going on?

If you're worried about language barriers all WNO opera's have surtitles (a rolling caption above the stage) but surprisingly you may find you don't even need to look at this too often.

The power of opera to convey extremes of emotion is immense.

So much so in fact that music from opera is used on a regular basis in films and advertisements. From Pretty Woman or Natural Born Killers to British airways. Everyone knows more opera than they think they do.

DIE FLEDERMAUS

(Strauss)

ALL of Viennese high society is going to Prince Orlofsky's Ball. They just don't want each other to know this.

Eisenstein should be going to prison so he's keeping a low profile. For obvious reasons his wife and her lover Alfred are also keen to conceal their identities. Their maid Adele should be tending to her sick aunt, not partying.

Eisenstein's best friend Falke, however, is plotting revenge on him for making him walk through the city dressed as a bat. By the end of the night all masks will be lifted, identities will be known and truths will be revealed. A comic farce!

IL TROVATORE

(Verdi)

TWENTY years ago, Azucena's mother was burned for witchcraft by the Count di Luna. In retaliation Azucena is said to have thrown one of di Luna's sons on the fire. In the present day the truth of those events will haunt the next generation. No-one will escape the chilling truth. A full bloodied passionate tale of vengeance.

Ten playing at MKG

SOLUS REX AND TEN

Tomorrow, 6.45pm

MK GALLERY continues its series of Scratch Nights with a double bill.

Fans of the mid 1990s band Stereolab can catch one of its former members, Duncan Brown, when he premieres his latest project, Solus Rex.

Bassist Brown said: "I'm pleased to be performing in MK. It's great that there is this experimental programme night each week at MK Gallery allowing people like me to showcase my work."

Also appearing on the night are Ten, an experimental, ambient band from Leeds.

Their sound combines electronic keys, shoegaze noise and percussion with the acoustic sounds of glockenspiel and a string quartet to create beautiful soundscapes that move from slow, eerie and melancholic to pulsating and optimistic.

Free entry, donations welcome.

CHRYSALIS THEATRE

FAME

Today and tomorrow

THE New York Academy of Performing Arts is coming to town in the show thats 'going to live forever'.

Students from the performing arts department at MK College will leave you feeling energised after watching them light up the stage with fabulous song, dance and drama.

The musical is about young artists striving to get to the top of their profession but encountering numerous pitfalls along the way.

MK College tutor Karina Streeton said: "It is impossible to say how many budding actors, musicians and dancers realised their calling by watching Fame, but the philosophy of the 'Fame School' has had a major impact on how performing arts is taught as a subject all over the world."

Showing today at 7.30pm and also tomorrow at 3pm and 7.30pm.

Tickets are £7.50 and £5 for concessions.

Pets give us love and affection and in return we should care for them properly feeding them the right foods, exercising them regularly and keeping them clean and healthy.

Sometimes we are all too busy to do all the things our pets need to stay happy and healthy. Luckily in the Milton Keynes area there are plenty of people ready to help with all your pet needs.

Racing stars confirmed for Silverstone test ride festival

A cast of stars from the exalted world of Superbike racing have been confirmed for a free to the public motorcycle test ride event taking place at Silverstone's Stowe circuit complex from 09.00am on Saturday 9 April.

The first chance for many enthusiasts to try motorcycles from the new 2011 range of machines from Japanese manufacturer Kawasaki, the all-day event is sure to attract two-wheel fans from a huge catchment area around the popular Northamptonshire circuit.

With British Superbike stars Stuart Easton and Gary Mason already confirmed to appear, the cast of famous riders has been augmented further still with the recent announcement, via the Kawasaki web site at www.kawasaki.co.uk, of the attendance of fan favourite Chris Walker and World Superbike star, Tom Sykes.

Offering the chance for members of the biking public to take free guided demonstration rides on roads local to the easy to access circuit on machines from throughout the Kawasaki range, the event also offers bikers who have appropriate leather riding gear the tantalising prospect of riding their own Kawasaki machine on track for a small fee, or experiencing one of a fleet of track prepared Kawasaki Ninja Supersport machines on the recently updated Stowe circuit complex.

According to Sales and Marketing Manager for Kawasaki Motors UK, Michael Johnstone, the event will be an ideal start to the biking season for many riders.

"What better way to get back on two wheels after a winter break than having a free test ride on glorious country roads or take to the track on the Stowe racing circuit. All we ask is that riders bring both parts of their driving licence with them and meet our simple loan requirements. We hope to see as many Kawasaki riders and fans as possible on 9 April at Silverstone. With test rides, the world famous Craig Jones stunt show, and motorcycle skills academies throughout the day, there really is something for everyone."

Win Charlie Landsborough tickets

MK NEWS has teamed up with Judy Totton Publicity to offer five lucky readers two tickets each to the upcoming Charlie Landsborough concert at The Stables.

Charlie Landsborough is heading out on a major 15 date UK tour this spring in support of his new studio album and will be playing at The Stables on Saturday at 8pm.

Charlie's music covers a wide range of genres from inspirational to country, to ballad and anthem, with songs from Bob Dylan, Billy Joel, Cliff Richard and Hoagy Carmichael.

He is also no stranger to performing live and last year he played a hugely successful raft of dates throughout the UK and Ireland as well as returning to Australia for another major tour.

A consummate live performer, Charlie and his five-piece band are well known for keeping concertgoers enthralled. His anecdotes captivate audiences wherever he plays - he is as entertaining as he is melodic, while his musicality is unquestionably superb.

In addition Charlie recently released his autobiography, Storyteller, which had proved so popular it is already in reprint.

A Charlie Landsborough gig is unquestionably a special experience. It is one show definitely not to be missed.

HOW TO ENTER

TO BE in with a chance of winning this fantastic prize simply answer the following question: Which artist wrote and sang the song Blowin' in the Wind?

Answers, complete with name, address and daytime telephone number, should be sent to competitions@mk-news.co.uk. Editor's decision is final.

Fittingly MK's newest premier live music venue, The Craufurd Arms, in Wolverton, is opening its doors to put on the show.

Cocktail shakers are new Guinness record breakers

BY KIRSTEN RAWLINS
kirsten.rawlins@mk-news.co.uk

A CITY bartender proved he has a Flair for making cocktails when he helped rewrite the record books.

Kareem Maynard-Clarke from T.G.I. Friday's restaurant in The Theatre District joined 100 bartenders to set a new Guinness World Record for the Most People in a Simultaneous Cocktail Flair last Monday.

T.G.I. Friday's staff from across the UK carried out the skillfully co-ordinated routine in Covent Garden, London, without dropping a bottle or falling out of sync for more than two minutes.

Kareem said: "Wow, what an incredible day. I'm so proud of everyone. Flair is about creating theatre and fun around the bar and we certainly had plenty of fun setting the record. It was an amazing feeling to be part of this."

It was T.G.I. Friday's bartenders who trained Tom Cruise to perform his flair tricks in the iconic film Cocktail and this record bid was carried out in celebration of the restaurant chain's 25th birthday.

T.G.I. Friday's marketing director Karen Forrester with Kareem Maynard-Clarke

Karen Forrester, T.G.I. Friday's UK managing director, said: "Our bartenders have done an incredible job and amazed me yet again with their passion and talent. This is a year of celebration for Friday's and what better way to start it than with a fantastic spectacle and achievement like this. We want everyone to share our celebrations with us and have as much fun as we are in this momentous year."

Guinness World Record officials adjudicated the record attempt and confirmed that a new world record had been set.

Understanding new regulations on temporary staff

A RECRUITMENT agency is holding a seminar about the latest regulations regarding temporary staff.

1st Choice Recruitment has organised the event with guest speakers from the Recruitment and Employment Confederation (REC) and employment law specialists next month.

The new Agency Workers Regulations derive from European legislation designed to give temporary workers parity in pay and employment conditions.

The aim is to ensure the treatment which already applies to fixed-term and part-time permanent workers is extended to agency staff after a 12-week qualifying period. The legislation will come into force in October and will impact on any business employing a temporary worker through a recruitment agency.

As a result, 1st Choice Recruitment is working closely with companies to ensure they have a full understanding of the regulations and the impact they will have on their business.

The seminar will be held at the Holiday Inn Milton Keynes East in London Road, Newport Pagnell, on Friday, May 6 between 9am and 11am.

■ To reserve a free place call 1st Choice Recruitment on 01908 695599, or e-mail mk@1stchoicerec.com

MK Dons assistant manager JOHN GORMAN writes exclusively for MK NEWS every week

I THOUGHT the morale after Saturday's game was still high despite the defeat.

It's a crazy one, because it felt like we didn't lose and we took something out of it. The performance, considering the opposition, was very good and the chairman came down and congratulated the team for never giving up even when we went 3-2 down.

Peter Leven hit the post and we had another good chance where we could have had a penalty. We could have snatched a late equaliser too and deservedly so because we could have folded completely and maybe let a fourth or fifth goal because it happens to teams.

But morale was so good after the game and it has been excellent all week and we're really determined to make the play-offs. Everyone wants to train and be part of the team and it's important to get three points again to get back on the road. We've only lost two games in 15 so there's no need for us to be negative about the result.

If we make the play-offs I think we've had a good season and we have to be honest and say that the season has been a success so far. We've had a small budget, had to let some outstanding players go as well as having a lot of suspension and injuries and we've brought through some good young players so I think we've had a successful season anyway.

I have great respect for Carlisle United. They are a team that I was at the club for as a player but I'm still remembered and still have a great fondness for them.

When I was there we were a Championship side and they are a team who have great capabilities and have nearly got back to the Championship a couple of times.

I think they're a team who can get big support, they're in a big area and one of those teams that have a big heart and passionate fans and they're looking to come here to get a result, but we are determined to win to get near to our play-off goal and make it our day.

Saints' Dean Hammond dives in to bring down Keanu Marsh-Brown on the edge of the penalty area

Sub's double hit proves his Forte

BY ADAM THOMPSON
editor@mk-news.co.uk

Southampton 3
MK Dons 2

A SECOND-HALF collapse from Dons saw them surrender a two-goal lead against play-off rivals Southampton.

This top-of-the-table clash could be a play-off semi-final fixture come the end of the season, and Saints showed why they are unbeaten at home in 2011, showing great spirit to come from behind.

Dons were 2-0 up in the second half when they were hit by a Jonathan Forte double just after the hour mark.

Lee Barnard then completed the turnaround to make it 3-2 in a game Karl Robinson will feel his team should have won.

It was a defender who put the away side in the lead with MK's – and the game's – first effort.

Peter Leven's corner was met by Gary Mackenzie, who got in front of his marker to power a header beyond Kelvin Davis.

Dons made a dream start to the second half by doubling their lead.

Sam Baldock was played in by Stephen Gleeson. He slowed down the defender before firing a shot that beat Davis at his near post to send the MK fans into raptures.

Baldock then came close to making it three.

The striker sold Danny Butterfield a dummy on the half-way line, breezed past the full-back and strode toward the edge of the area, but the finish was lacking from what would have been a truly memorable goal.

Within seconds Southampton hit Dons with a double sucker punch.

Substitute Forte pulled a goal back with his first touch of the game, finding himself with acres of space to beat David Martin.

Then less than a minute later, Dan Harding got forward and his low cross was palmed out by Martin to Forte, who tapped in from close range to equalise for Nigel Adkins' men.

Lee Barnard was then put clear to smash a left-footed effort past Martin to give the Saints the lead for the first time in the game.

COMING UP

CARLISLE
League One
Saturday, April 9
stadiummk, KO 3pm

DONS suffered a crushing 4-1 defeat in the reverse of this fixture earlier in the season and will have to be on their guard this time around.

A famous win for the Cumbrian side in the Johnston Paint Trophy final at the weekend is sure to have them fired up for this game.

Carlisle started the season in impressive fashion and looked like they could have been real contenders for promotion, but are now facing the prospect of mid-table mediocrity after a very inconsistent season so far.

Ref wrong says Robinson

BOSS Karl Robinson bemoaned two refereeing decisions in his sides' defeat at Southampton.

Dons were two-nil up after an hour but a 15-minute spell in the second half saw the Saints overhaul the deficit.

But the Dons chief felt his side should have had a penalty in the final minutes of the game. He said: "It was a blatant penalty and I don't know how it was missed. Their player had his hands on Mathias Doumbe, over his shoulders and almost over the crest of our badge.

"In the lead up to their third goal Keanu Marsh-Brown was given offside when he was at least two or three yards on side and that's where their third goal came from. So, for all what went on, I think the referee got two key decisions wrong."

Robinson also revealed that referee Mick Russell said he'd review the decisions, adding: "He said to me he'd apologise if he had got the decisions wrong, he said he'd assess it and you have to give him the benefit of the doubt, but it is hard to take.

"I'm very proud of the performance. We've been here on a number of occasions, been brushed aside and been embarrassed but that wasn't the case this time.

"There was a 20-minute spell where the crowd was behind them, there was intensity and we didn't defend great but I can't knock the back four because for a large part of the game they were outstanding."

Campus kids steal the show

BADMINTON

STANTONBURY Campus stole the show this weekend to be crowned national badminton champions.

The boys from years seven, eight and nine fought off strong competition from eight other schools at the Center Parcs National Schools Badminton Championship Finals.

The championship saw the school team, made up of brothers Jed and Harry Arksey, Alex Pandya, Steven Stallwood and Eric Tsoi, beat Elizabethan High School, Nottingham, and Isleworth and Syon School, Isleworth, in the final round.

The trophy was awarded by Badminton England Player Liz Cann.

Jed, 13, said: "Winning today was great but much more enjoyable to be able to share it with my friends and team mates. We are really happy with our performance and the way in which we played today. I'm sure everyone back at Stantonbury Campus and in Milton Keynes will be dead proud of us."

Mike Stewart, team manager for the boy's under 14 team, added: "I am very proud of the boys.

The standard of badminton was very competitive. We came with our sights set high and achieved everything we have worked for over the past few months.

"We're absolutely thrilled to have won and to be bringing the trophy back to the home of badminton."

Lightning in semis

ICE HOCKEY

A RESURGENT Lightning put recent defeats firmly behind them to earn a showdown with Manchester Phoenix in the EPL play-off semi finals at the Coventry Skydome.

In the first quarter-final leg against Basingstoke Bison, played on Lightning's home ice on Saturday, they had a dream start and were three goals to the good in only eight minutes, following a Lukas Zatopek rocket from the blue line after only 1.53.

Gary Clarke then connected with a Monir Kalgoum pass to double the lead, and the season's top scorer Andre Smulter then sent the home supporters into raptures by scoring a top-shelf third on 7.51.

The visitors stepped up the pressure in the second period with Lightning netminder Barry Hollyhead pulling off a string of saves, until Ondrej Lauko found a way past him with only 3.31 left of the period.

Lightning's supporters endured a nail-biting final period after Bison grabbed a second, but Basingstoke were unable to make any further inroads.

Sunday's game saw Lightning keep up their momentum, when Smulter scored a powerplay goal from the blue line after only 1.31.

But that advantage didn't last long, after Bison's Ciaran Long found a way past Hollyhead.

Lightning responded courtesy of a Blaz Emersic shot, before Ben Davies scored to put Basingstoke right back in the game.

Long struck again less than three minutes before the second break, putting Bison level on aggregate and providing a nerve-shredding final period.

But when Michael Wales passed to Monir Kalgoum to convert, both the MK bench and supporters were sent into raptures.

As the clock counted down Basingstoke withdrew their keeper, leaving an empty net for Kalgoum to score a long-range shot and send Lightning to the finals for the first time in two seasons.

Lions' semi-final is at 3pm on Saturday, with the final, against Guildford Flames or Peterborough Phantoms, on Sunday.

Tickets are available from the Skydome box office on 02476 630693.

Lights go on at Olney Tennis Club

TENNIS

AN AMERICAN tournament and a host of junior competitions were played to mark the unveiling of new facilities and floodlights at Olney Tennis Club this weekend.

The club can now offer extended playing hours, as well as four courts all-year round, thanks to a £22,950 grant from the Lawn Tennis Association (LTA), with support from Sport England.

The grant is part of the LTA's commitment to improve playing facilities and enhance access to tennis nationwide.

Simon Barter, chairman of the club, said: "Olney is one of the fastest growing small clubs in the county with the most members per court.

"We've grown from around 180 members to 300 in the last couple of years and with the new facilities on offer we can balance demand against the facilities and be able to maintain the high level we're working at and continue to progress."

The new floodlit court was officially opened by the mayor of Olney, Michael Hughes.

Tennis development manager for Buckinghamshire Rob Ellis sung the praises of the club.

He said: "Olney Tennis Club is talked about throughout the borough because of the fantastic work the team there do. They can currently boast more than 100 competing juniors on a regular basis, which is an unbelievable number for this size club, they are certainly a club always able to punch above their weight.

"Being able to support them in gaining these great new facilities we hope they can continue to not only grow but also to sustain and retain their current membership."

BASKETBALL

A game too far for tired Lions

MK Lions 83
Newcastle Eagles 81

TRAVIS Nelson ensured this well-earned win for the Lions after the Eagles were leading 77-78 with a minute to play.

Though the Lions were dominant for the majority of the game, exploding out of the blocks to quickly rack up a ten-point lead at the first buzzer, the Eagles fought back to level the scores at 61-61 for the final period.

But their fight back was in vain, with Nelson stepping up in the final 60 seconds with a three-point play to give Lions the lead for good.

A late three gave Newcastle some hope, but Yorick Williams hit a free-throw, leaving a length-of-court attempt from the Eagles as Lions celebrated an excellent victory.

MK Lions 105
Guildford Heat 98

LIONS' third win on the bounce now means they crucially take the head-to-head contest between their fellow post season hopefuls Guildford, which could prove important as the season gets right down to the crunch this weekend.

In the early exchanges both sides traded baskets, before big three-pointers from Demarius Bolds and Stefan Gill sparked a 9-0 run from the Lions to take the score out to 24-15.

Guildford overturned this deficit to lead at the half 53-54, who then began to break the game open in the second half before a time out from Lions coach Mike New heralded an instant 12-3 response from the home side.

In the final period, further three-pointers from Bolds and Myers saw the lead change hands at 80-79. The score remained close until a 12-2 Lions burst broke the game open, led by Myers and Nelson pushing the score out to 102-92 with 1.30 remaining.

MK Lions 74
Sheffield Sharks 83

SIX games in ten days put paid to the Lions against the Sheffield Sharks on Sunday afternoon.

Still in with a shout of making the end-of-season play-offs, the Lions needed to win their three remaining games.

The Lions opened up like a house on fire as Demarius Bolds and Stefan Gill put their visitors to the sword leading 15-10 early. The Lions were getting success under the basket as Shawn Myers and Travis Nelson dominated, while Anthony Haase also found a way inside, the quarter ended with the home side 29-20 ahead.

The second quarter saw Sheffield settle with a couple of threes from deep, but fouls plagued the Lions as their visitors shot 17 free-throws in the first half, going on to amass a total of 32 attempts from the stripe.

Lions then hit a brick wall in the second half, as Sharks closed out the third with a 62-66 lead. The fourth saw the Lions dig in defensively but a low-scoring quarter from both teams saw Sharks take the win.

Lions' last two games see them host Essex Pirates on Friday, before travelling to Glasgow on Sunday. Tickets for the home game are still available online.

Dons can play with no fears

We've beaten the 'big fish' says assistant boss Gorman

MK'S assistant manager, John Gorman, says the club have no fear of their play-off rivals as the side look to bounce back from Saturday's defeat.

Dons' eight game unbeaten run came to an end at the hands of Southampton but Gorman was in bullish mood ahead of the weekend fixture against Carlisle United.

He said: "The good thing for us is we've beaten the so called 'big fish' and we've beaten them all at home so if we had to play a Huddersfield or Southampton we would hold no fear you can't pick and choose who you are going to have in the play-offs.

"We can go anywhere now and we have no fear of the next three away games, we shouldn't have any fear going to any of these places.

"We've got points away at Hartlepool, Colchester and Rochdale. If you look at that it proves there's no reason to change our attitude because of the loss to Southampton."

Carlisle United will be arriving at stadiummk as Johnstone's Paint Trophy winners and Gorman said that United's league position isn't to be underestimated.

He added: "Carlisle are going to be on a high. I saw them last year after they lost last year's final and they went out and beat Bristol Rovers 3-1.

"We cannot underestimate Carlisle. They'll come here and they won't care about us being in the play-offs. They want to finish the league as high as possible and they're very professional guys that run the team and I think it's going to be a difficult game.

"I think they'll come here and make life difficult for us but I still think they'll have one eye on hitting us on the break."
